

A large writing area divided into three vertical columns by a red vertical line on the left and two black vertical lines. Each row is bounded by a top and bottom black horizontal line, with a blue horizontal line in the middle. Each column contains multiple rows of these horizontal lines, providing a structured grid for handwriting practice. The page is otherwise blank.